Happy RETIREMENT

KARA JOHNSTON

Kara worked at IBEW Local 146 CU for five years before becoming CEO at United Equity Credit Union in 2013. "I love the camaraderie among credit unions and the 'People Helping People' philosophy," said Kara. She appreciated the relationships and great environment she found in the credit union movement.

Kara is especially proud of the wide array of products and services offered by UECU, including shared branching. She liked utilizing CUSOs and how they can assist a smaller CU to keep pace with larger institutions. "The variety of services and loans gives the credit union opportunities for growth in down times or markets," she said.

Kara retired at the end of May and plans to travel with her husband, Jeff. They will spend time with their four children and six grandchildren. She is looking forward to activities including reading, pickleball, golf, yoga, hiking, and volunteering.

Kara has left her mark on United Equity Credit Union for years to come. Her leadership contributed to UECU's growth and new products/services during her tenure. All of us at United Equity Credit Union wish Kara the very best in her well-deserved retirement!
